Hartford Schools Name Public Information Officer

September 9, 2004 --Terry D'Italia, a Hartford resident with more than 30 years of experience in public relations and communications, has been named Public Information Officer for the Hartford Public Schools.

Working in the office of Superintendent Robert Henry, he will be responsible for directing and coordinating the Hartford Public Schools' overall public relations agenda.

"Mr. D'Italia brings energy, enthusiasm, and a broad range of experience to this new position. He is committed to Hartford's success and to the success of Hartford's Public Schools and the students we serve. It's a pleasure to welcome him aboard," said Superintendent Robert Henry.

A graduate of the University of Connecticut, D'Italia began his career as a newspaper reporter. He went on to hold a number of communications positions at several area insurance companies and advertising agencies.

Immediately prior to assuming his present position, he was assistant vice president of marketing communications at Chubb Specialty Insurance in Simsbury.

Born in Hartford, and a resident since 1975, D'Italia is married and has two adult children, both graduates from Hartford Public High School
