

Connecticut Office
of Early Childhood

SHARE YOUR experience!

Join us

for a Parent & Family Engagement Session to share your experiences related to finding the right early care and education option for your family!

When:

Tuesday, October 27th
6pm to 8pm

Where:

We will gather together virtually.

Register HERE and we'll follow up with the call-in information!

What:

The Office of Early Childhood (OEC) is working to understand how the Early Care and Education System could operate differently to more effectively meet the needs of Connecticut children and families. The ongoing COVID-19 crisis has shown the importance of affordable, high-quality early care and education, and reinforced the need to make sure more families in Connecticut have access to the child care that they need. We recognize the strength of families during this time and want to hear real life experiences.

With your input, we can better define what this new way of doing business should look like and the actions required to make it happen. OEC is committed to centering this new approach on the needs of Connecticut children and families. And this is exactly why we need to hear from each of you!

Please come as you are and join for as long as you can! We really appreciate you taking time in the midst of your busy days to share your experience with us.

We look forward to hearing from you, and please reach out if you have any questions.

Supported by

