Sexual Minority Youth are routinely deprived of support in every critical area of their lives!

Lack of Family Support
- One study of homeless youth revealed that LGBT youth leave home more often, experience higher levels of physical victimization, substance abuse and depression than their heterosexual counterparts (Cochran, et al, May 2002). In another study, 50% of lesbian and gay youth interviewed report that their parents rejected them due to their sexual orientation. As many as 26% of gay youth are forced to leave home because of conflicts over their sexual identity (Remafedi, 1987)
- In a study of lesbian and gay youth in New York City, 46% of the violence reported by subjects was perpetrated by family members (Hunter, 1990)
- A national survey of parents in 2001 (Horizon Foundation, San Francisco, CA) found that although support is improving, 44% of parents opposed the creation of school based prejudice reduction.
- Sexual minority youth generally can not rely on their families to provide them with the skills or the validation necessary to negotiate hostile societal waters (Morrow, 1993)

Lack of Positive School Experiences
- 28% of LGBT youths are forced to drop out of school because of harassment resulting from their sexual orientation (Hershberger, 1995). Gay youth are more than 4 times as likely to skip school because they feel unsafe. (Massachusetts Department of Education, 1995)
  - In 1/3 of a reported 92 incidents of anti-gay harassment of students in Washington State Schools, adults witnessed the harassment but did nothing to help. Of the students victimized in those incidents, 10 attempted suicide, two successfully. (Safe Schools Coalition of Washington State, 1999)
- There is little training, education or support for students or helping professionals. A 2004 National School Assessment commissioned by Parents, families and Friends of Lesbians and Gays indicated that 95% of school counseling services had little or no gay, lesbian, or bisexual resources and 99% had little or no transgender resources; 70% had no training for educators or staff on how to stop GLBT bullying while 92% had no training for students; 84% had little or no resources for parents about GLBT issues; 59% did not include gay, lesbian, or bisexual students in their harassment or nondiscrimination policies and 75% did not include gender identity or expression.
- Key findings of the 2003 Survey of 887 LGBT students by GLSEN include: Unchecked harassment correlates with poor performance (lower GPAs) and diminished aspirations (fewer aspire to college) – and that supportive teachers can make a real difference in both areas. In addition, harassment continued at unacceptable levels (84% report verbal harassment) with little teacher intervention (82.9% of students report that faculty never or rarely intervene when present.)
- The intense stigma associated with sexual minority status makes it difficult for these youth to interact authentically with peers. The lack of cohort comparisons, societal confirmation, and peer affirmation contributes to difficulties in achieving many of the developmental tasks of adolescence including the development of a positive sexual identity. (Telljohann, 1993; Fontaine, 1996)

Lack of Opportunity for Community Participation
- There are few mainstream (or LGBT programs) which are designed to provide opportunities for Sexual Minority Youth to participate in non-adult centered community activities – activities which help build a young person’s sense of self, of making a contribution and of personal and social competency. In addition, with the exception of a handful of LGBT youth support groups, few opportunities exist for on-going social interactions in safe environments.

Lack of Opportunity to Participate in Religious Communities
- Although some pockets of support exist within some communities of faith, the overwhelming majority of churches, synagogues and clergy continue to condemn and ostracize Sexual Minority youth and adults in a “soul-wounding experience that (asks) them to choose between their God, their spiritual connection, and their own integrity.” (Bass, 1996)
Potential Impact of the Pervasive Lack of Support

- Severe social, emotional and cognitive isolation which results in a higher incidence of mental health issues including bouts of depression, lower self esteem, problems with anxiety. Often these young people exist in complex, unstable family situations due in part to issues of coming out, silence and secrecy. (Cochran, 2001). In addition, the typical “concealment strategies” designed to hide the youth’s orientation becomes an “unending and extremely stressful chore” (Grossman, 1997) that is emotionally and socially crippling (Dempsey, 1994).

- Significant substance abuse problems: A 1995 Massachusetts Youth Risk Behavior Survey found that LGB youth were more likely to report using tobacco, marijuana and cocaine before 13 years of age. A number of studies indicate that a significant percentage of Sexual Minority youth use drugs and alcohol as a coping strategy. In one study, (Hunter, 1992) as many as 68% of gay boys and 83% of lesbian girls reported alcohol use; 44% of boys and 56% of girls reported drug use with 8% considering themselves drug dependent.

- Higher incidence of homelessness, dropping out, running away, and sexual acting out. At the same time, there are few external resources in place to support, safe, culturally competent, identity-affirming out of home care such as foster homes and group homes.

- Significantly higher risk of HIV/AIDS transmission: Up to half of the gay/bisexual boys forced out of their homes engage in prostitution to support themselves, greatly increasing their risk of HIV infection (Savin-Williams, 1988). A 1991 San Francisco study of gay and bisexual men revealed that 14% of the young men between the ages of 17 and 22 were HIV positive, a figure 4% higher than men in the 23 to 25 age group. Recent figures released by the Centers for Disease Control indicate that 50% of all new infections are among young people under the age of 24.

- Significantly higher incidence of multiple suicide attempts and suicide completions, with nearly 30% of all completed youth suicides being committed by Sexual Minority Youth. A number of studies have indicated that between 29% and 40% of Sexual Minority youth have recurring suicidal ideation at least once during their adolescence, and a significant number have made multiple attempts.

PLEASE NOTE: None of the ‘parade of horribles’ listed above are either set in stone or experienced by all LGBT youth. In fact, many of these risks factors can be ameliorated when youth receive support in one or more areas of their lives. The emotional distress that can lead to suicide, substance abuse, etc. is caused, in large part, by social isolation and stigma. Remove the social isolation and stigma, and much of the emotional distress is relieved. Evidence suggests that LGBT youth who receive support not only survive – but thrive! (D’Augelli, 1992) In addition, harassment has been identified as a critical factor in predicting outcomes for youth. The greater the level of harassment a youth experiences, the greater the likelihood that s/he will engage in risky behaviors. (Bontempo & D’Augelli, 2002)
DEFINITIONS

Bisexual — (female or male) a person who is (or can be) attracted emotionally, romantically and sexually to both males and females. Individuals can be attracted to either sex equally or to one more than the other.

Cross-dresser — Men and women who enjoy wearing the clothes of, or appearing as, other than their birth sex. Both heterosexuals and homosexuals can be cross-dressers, though the majority of cross-dressers are heterosexual men. (Replaces the outdated term ‘transvestite’)

Gay Male — A male who is attracted emotionally, romantically and sexually to males.

Gender Identity — One’s inner sense of gender as male, female, transgender, genderqueer, androgynous, etc.

Genderqueer — A term used to create expressions of gender and identity that transcend binary male/female constructs. Other terms might include but not be limited to: boy-dykes, bio-girlz, tranny-boys, trykes, Riotgirl, etc.

Gender Roles — What one’s society and culture says that ‘males and ‘females are like. The socially constructed and culturally specific behavior and appearance expectations imposed on females (femininity) and males (masculinity).

Heterosexism — The institutionalized assumption that everyone is heterosexual and that heterosexuality is inherently superior to and preferable to homosexuality or bisexuality.

Heterosexuals — Males and females who are attracted emotionally, romantically and sexually to members of the opposite sex. They are sometimes also referred to as “straight”.

Homophobia — The irrational fear or hatred of, aversion to, or discrimination against, homosexuals or homosexual behavior.

Homosexuals — Males and females who are attracted emotionally, romantically and sexually to members of the same sex. Most people prefer the terms gay or lesbian.

Internalized Homophobia — The experience of shame, aversion or self-hatred in reaction to one’s own attraction’s to a person of the same sex.

Intersex — A person with an intersex condition is born with sex chromosomes, external genitalia, or an internal reproductive system that is not considered “standard” for either male or female (Replaces the outdated term “hermaphrodites”) (from www.isna.org)

Lesbian — A female who is attracted emotionally, romantically and sexually to females.

Pansexual: One who exhibits or suggests a sexuality that has many different forms, objects and outlets. One who exhibits many forms of sexual expression. (from www.lesbianworld.com)

Same Gender Loving (SGL) — A term that emerged in the early 1990’s with the intention of offering Black women who love women and Black Men who love men (and other groups of color) a voice, a way of identifying and being that resonated with the uniqueness of Black culture in life. While many black lesbians and gay men do prefer to identify as lesbian and gay, many prefer the more Afrocentric SGL or Same Gendered Loving. It is best to ask the individual for their preference and not to assume. (from www.GLAAD.org)

Sexual Behavior — Sexual acts individuals of any orientation may choose to participate in with a partner or alone.

Sexual Minority — Gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender people (5 to 15% of the population depending upon the study).

Sexual Orientation — Defined by who you are ATTRACTED to emotionally, romantically and sexually: People of the same sex (lesbian, gay), the other sex (heterosexual), or either sex (bisexual). Note that these dimensions are not absolutes and can be somewhat fluid over time. In addition, some people, especially those who reject gender binaries, may identify as ‘pansexual’ or use other terms.

The Down Low — The Down Low (also known as "DL") refers to closeted bisexual men who have sex with men without the knowledge of their female partners. (from www.GLAAD.org)

Transgender — A broad term used to describe the continuum of individuals whose gender identity and expression, to varying degrees, does not correspond with the social or cultural norms or expectation of their genetic sex.

Transsexual — An individual who presents him/her/hirself and lives as a gender different to his/her/ze genetic sex at birth. Transsexuals may identify as heterosexual, bisexual or homosexual. (note: “hir” and “ze” are gender neutral pronouns and do not denote gender as male or female).

Womanist — A term introduced by author Alice Walker to describe women of color who are concerned about the oppression of other women. This term was introduced to embrace women of color who have felt left out of the "feminist" movement due to institutionalized racism (Texto derivado de ABORDANDO LA TEMÁTICA GAY EN LA ESCUELA, GLSEN CT, GLAAD, ISNA, and LESBIAN WORLD) adaptado por Robin McHaelen y traducido por Nila Marrone):

- Bisexual – (hombre o mujer) Una persona que siente atracción afectiva y sexual tanto hacia hombres como hacia mujeres.
- Bisexual no asumido – (The Down Low or DL) Se refiere a hombres bisexuales no asumidos que tienen sexo con hombres sin el conocimiento de su pareja mujer.
- Comportamiento sexual - Actos sexuales que los individuos eligen para realizarlos solos o con otros (masturbación, sexo oral, sexo vaginal o anal; entre personas del mismo sexo o el opuesto).
- Crosdreser - Hombre y mujer que disfruta usando ropas del otro sexo, o aparentando ser del sexo opuesto. Tanto heterosexuales como homosexuales pueden ser crosdreseres, aunque la mayoría son hombres heterosexuales (Antes se usaba “travesti”).
- Enamorados del mismo género – Un término utilizado desde principios de los años 90 para denominar a mujeres de color que aman a mujeres y hombres de color que aman a hombres como una forma de identificar este tipo de vida en la cultura afroamericana. Si bien muchos hombres gays y mujeres lesbianas de color prefieren ser identificados simplemente como gays y lesbianas, muchos otros prefieren la denominación de Afrocentricos SGL o Enamorados del mismo Género (del inglés Same Gender Loving). Al respecto, antes de referirse a ellos lo mejor es no asumir y preguntar la preferencia de cada persona.
- Gay - Un hombre que siente atracción afectiva y sexual hacia otros hombres. “Gay” a veces se usa también para mujeres.
- Género “Queer” o Raro – (genderqueer) Término usado para crear palabras que identifiquen a hombres/mujeres de género no tradicional. Se puede incluir otros términos despectivos en un proceso de “recuperación y desafío” (“boy-dykes”, “bio-girlz”, “trannie-boys”, “trykes”, “Riotgirl”, etc.).
- Heterosexismo - La creencia institucionalizada que todos son heterosexuales o deberían serlo y que la heterosexualidad es intrínsecamente superior y preferible a la homosexualidad y bisexualidad.
- Heterosexual - Hombre o mujer que siente atracción afectiva y sexual hacia personas del sexo opuesto. A veces se los llama “heteros”.
- Homofobia - El odio o miedo irracional, la aversión o discriminación contra los homosexuales. Similar al racismo: por ejemplo discriminación que sufren los latinos en Estados Unidos.
- Homofobia internalizada - Experimentar vergüenza, aversión u odio contra uno mismo como reacción al sentimiento de sentirse atraído hacia personas de su mismo sexo.
- Homosexual - Siente atracción instintiva, afectiva y sexual, hacia personas del mismo sexo. (Gay: hombre hacia hombres, lesbiana: mujeres hacia mujeres).
- Identidad de género - Nuestro sentido interior de género de ser hombre o mujer, bisexual, transexual, etc.
- Intersexual - Una persona intersexual es alguien que ha nacido con los cromosomas que definen el sexo, los genitales externos (ambiguos), o los órganos reproductores internos, considerados no “estándar”, sea para hombre o mujer (reemplaza la palabra fuera de uso “hermafrodita”).
- Lesbiana – Mujer que siente atracción instintiva, afectiva y sexual, hacia otras mujeres.
- Minorías sexuales - gays, lesbianas, bisexuales, transexuales y transgéneros. (5 al 15% de la población dependiendo del estudio que se prefiera).
- “Mujerista” – Un término puesto en uso por la autora Alice Walker para describir a la mujer de color que está comprometida con el tema de la opresión a otras mujeres. Este término se utiliza también para las mujeres de color que se han sentido relegadas por el movimiento “feminista”, por racismo o discriminación institucionalizados.
- Orientación sexual - La atracción instintiva, afectiva y sexual, que se siente hacia otras personas. Personas del mismo sexo (lesbianas, gays), del sexo opuesto (heterosexuales) o de ambos sexos (bisexuales). Se hace notar que estas definiciones no son categóricas y pueden ser modificadas con el tiempo, en suma a aquellos que rechazan la dualidad de género se los puede identificar como “pansexuales” o usar otros términos.
- Pansexual – Persona que manifiesta su sexualidad en formas variadas, con objetos y expresiones diversos. El/la que manifiesta muchas formas de expresión sexual.
- Roles de género - El comportamiento social y culturalmente creado, con objetos y expresiones diversos. El/la que manifiesta una sexualidad que no se ajuste a las normas de género.
- Transexual - Una persona que se presenta a sí misma y vive como si fuera del género "opuesto" al del género genético con que nació. Los transexuales pueden ser heterosexuales, bisexuales u homosexuales en su orientación sexual.
- Transgénero - Un término muy amplio, utilizado para describir a una serie de personas cuya identidad y expresión de género, en diferentes grados, no corresponde al de su sexo genético.

Some Internet Safety Tips:

The Internet is a great source of support for LGBT teens. For some, it is may be the only support. It is a place where you can find and make friends, find acceptance and be yourselves, get advice, read magazines, talk to friends, form activist groups and more. Unfortunately, not everyone you meet on the ‘net’ has such innocent intentions. And, sometimes, when a young person is lonely, you can become the prefect ‘prey’ – especially if you would be afraid to tell your parents if something happened because it would mean coming out to them. Here are some things to pay attention to:

- People are not always what they say they are.  Appearances can be deceiving and people may try to talk you into doing things you might feel badly about later. Trust your instincts. If you catch someone in one lie, chances are there are others… You may want to be careful how much information you provide about yourself in your profile.

- Be careful if you decide to meet.  Meet in a public place a few times first, before deciding to go to a more private location. Always tell someone where and with whom you are going! Make sure you use your own or public transportation in case things don’t go as you planned and you want to make an earlier exit.

- You have the right to expect respect.  If something happens to you that you think is harassment, assault or rape, then you need to take some actions. Tell someone you trust. Then get help.

- Remember your body is yours and yours alone.  You have a right to stop things whenever you feel uncomfortable – even if the other person doesn’t want to. You have the right to say NO!

- Trust Your Instincts.  If you feel unsafe, you probably are. Act on your feelings and get out.
Transgender Resources

TRANSGENDER (GENDER VARIENCE): A spectrum of thoughts, beliefs, feelings, behaviors ranging along a continuum from an occasional interest in Cross-Dressing (presenting as another gender) to Transexuality (aligning one’s external physical gender presentation with one’s internal perception of gender) to GenderQueer (an individual who does not identify within the gender binary systems (as male/masculine or female/feminine) and which does not imply specific sexual attractions or orientation).

Regional and CT Resources: (most are adult focused)

On-Line Intersex Resources

All website descriptions are taken directly from the website as direct quotes.

Bodies Like Ours:  www.bodieslikeours.org
   “Bodies Like Ours seeks to end the shame and secrecy that surrounds people born intersexed and/or with atypical genitals through community and peer support. Our goals are to make it okay to be born different and to recognize that we are not defined by what is between our legs. Instead, we seek to be defined by what makes us whole as human beings--our soul, our gender, and our presence.”

Intersex Society of North America:  www.insa.org
   “The Intersex Society of North America (ISNA) is devoted to systemic change to end shame, secrecy, and unwanted genital surgeries for people born with an anatomy that someone decided is not standard for male or female. We urge physicians to use a model of care that is patient-centered, rather than concealment-centered”

Intersex Initiative:  http://www.ipdx.org/ Intersex Initiative
   “(IPDX) is a Portland, Oregon based national activist organization working to end the medical abuse of children born with intersex conditions. We also challenge the medical and social erasure of intersex existence through raising the awareness of issues faced by intersex people. In addition to Portland, Oregon area, we have bases in the San Francisco Bay Area and in Japan, and work with various national organizations. Emi Koyama has been an intern-turned-staffer at Intersex Society of North America before founding Intersex Initiative. Since January 2003, she has been the full-time director of Intersex Initiative.”

The Survivor Project:  http://www.survivorproject.org/links.html
   Survivor Project is a non-profit organization dedicated to addressing the needs of intersex and trans survivors of domestic and sexual violence through caring action, education and expanding access to resources and to opportunities for action. Since 1997, we have provided presentations, workshops, consultation, materials, information and referrals to many anti-violence organizations and universities across the country, as well as gathered information about issues faced by intersex and trans survivors of domestic and sexual violence.

School Checklist: Harassment Prevention

This is a quick, down and dirty check-list of action steps a school might consider as it seeks to ensure that all students are safe, affirmed and free of harassment. This tool is not meant to substitute for legal advice or considerations, or to mitigate the potential for various liability issues schools could face for failing to protect youth from harassment on the basis of actual or perceived sexual orientation. The Connecticut Women’s Education and Legal Fund (CWEALF) in Hartford is a good resource for more specific information.

Are all appropriate personnel aware of the serious nature of harassment on the basis of sexual orientation? It isn’t just ‘bad behavior’ – it’s illegal!

Connecticut Civil Rights, Student Rights and Hate Crimes Statutes as well as Federal Statutes like Title IX, can be brought to bear on the issue (see page 23 or 24 for more information)

In the event of an alleged incident what are your school’s policies? What steps will be taken with the alleged perpetrator? Some issues to consider might be:

What means will you use to investigate the allegations in a way that preserves the confidentiality of participants as much as possible while still getting the whole picture?

Will you have an initial meeting with full explanation of the seriousness of his/her/hir actions?

Will the incident be reported to police? Rationale for reporting or not reporting?

What disciplinary actions will be taken? Rationale for specific actions taken or not?

Will there be a meeting with parents/guardians? If a meeting is not arranged, what is the rationale?

What support (community, therapeutic and/or other resources) are available for the alleged victim and his/her family and the alleged perpetrator and his/her/hir family?

What follow-up is planned with the each of the involved parties?

What specific steps will you take to protect targeted students?

Think about the school environment globally and consider safety issues in classrooms and hallways; libraries and other resource areas; lunchroom, bathrooms and locker rooms; Buses and parking lot areas

How can you engage other students/faculty and staff in responsibility for the safety of all? How have you informed or engaged students in understanding school policies regarding safety, harassment, bullying, etc.

What steps can be taken to inform, involve, engage faculty in the creation of a safe and affirming school climate?

Faculty meeting, training or workshop? (When was the last time you had a training specifically on LGBT issues at your school? If you haven’t – when will you?)

How have you ensured that all faculty and staff are aware of school, state and federal policies regarding the issue?

What follow-up plans do you have to maintain their interest and engagement in the issues?

What steps can be taken to transform an overall school culture which allows/condones bullying in any form?

Anti-bullying policies and enforcement?

Assemblies or other means of student information

Classroom discussions and/or other anti-bullying, diversity or tolerance curricula?

Follow-up plans?

Other?

Note: Ze and Hir are gender neutral pronouns used by individuals who find that binary gender descriptions don’t adequately describe their experience of gender. In the 2004 Legislative Session, CT added Gender Identity and Expression to its Hate Crime statutes. In addition, in a ruling by the State of Connecticut Human Resource Commission, sexual harassment statutes were interpreted to include “non-traditional” gender presentation. It is useful to note that most harassment of LGBT youth happens when others make assumptions about a student’s sexual orientation based on the extent to which he/she/ze transgresses gender stereotypes.

<th>Summary of LGBT Legal Rights in Schools</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>On the Federal Level</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Title IX:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>In March of 1997, a policy paper was issued that indicated that Title IX (a statute which prohibits sexual and gender discrimination) can be interpreted to include a prohibition against sexual harassment on the basis of orientation. That means that if a sexual minority student is sexually harassed (harassment with a sexual nature or overtone), and the school does not make significant efforts to overcome and prevent this harassment, the school has the potential to lose their federal funding!</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Constitutional Rights:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Constitution guarantees the right to equal protection. In the summer of 1997, this constitutional law was used to hold 3 school principals personally liable (in the amount of $800,000) for their failure to protect Jamie Nabozny from harassment and abuse based upon his sexual orientation while he was a student in a Wisconsin public school.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Equal Access Law:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Congress passed legislation originally designed to allow religious groups to meet in the schools as a “club”. Because legislation must be neutral and can not discriminate, the law broadly covers any “club” which allows anyone to join, has a non-violent purpose and meets the rules of the school, including Gay/Straight Alliances.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>On the State Level</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>“Gay Rights Law” PA 91-58u (CGS 46a-81a / CGS 46a-60)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CT is one of about 14 states that has an anti-discrimination law which makes it illegal to discriminate on the basis of sexual orientation. Although this law is specific to housing and employment, many believe that schools are covered under the public accommodation clause.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Student Bill of Rights PA 97-247 Sec 6 (CGS 10-15c)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>In June of 1997, Connecticut became the 5th state to amend their educational statutes to include sexual orientation as a protected category within the existing Student Bill of Rights.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hate Crimes Law (CGS 53a-181b / CGS 53a-40a)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CT is one of more than 21 states that also has Hate Crimes legislation which includes sexual orientation and provides additional penalties for crimes committed out of “hate” and prejudice. NOTE: A coalition of agencies and organizations are currently attempting to add gender identity and expression, as well as people with disabilities to the Hate Crimes Statute.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tort Laws</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Personal Injury Lawsuits allow a remedy for hurt and can be available to address all forms of bigotry in the school. Professional liability insurance does not cover discrimination (since it is illegal).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Licensing Statutes</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>These statutes always include Ethics clauses that require non-discrimination. Failure to meet these standard can result in a teacher’s, guidance counselor’s or other licensed professional’s loss of license.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Individual School District Policies</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Many state school districts (for example, Coventry, Hartford, New Haven, Stratford, Westport and others) followed the example of the National Association of State Boards of Education, the National Association of Local Boards of Education, NEA, and others by adding sexual orientation to their policies.</td>

Steps for Filing a School Discrimination Complaint

Discrimination in schools based on sexual orientation is a violation of federal law - Title IX, and CT State Law - 10-15c. There have been over fifteen cases nationwide that have been brought against school districts for failing to protect students from discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation. People may file a complaint in a number of ways and can consider any or all of the following:

1) File a complaint with the school system under Title IX, through the Title IX Coordinator. Each school district is required by federal law to have a person identified as the District Title IX Coordinator. This person oversees compliance. Title IX requires that the District Title IX Coordinator’s name, title, address and phone number must be published and posted. The school districts harassment policy, complaint process, grievance procedure must be made available to staff, students and parents. The school’s non-discrimination policy must be included in any and all official school publications. To find out who your District Title IX Coordinator is, go to the CT State Department of Education website at http://www.state.ct.us/sde/dtl/cert/titl9/t9coord_main.htm

2) File a complaint with the principal under 10-15c (see legal rights on previous page)

3) File with the Office for Civil Rights in Boston by calling 1-617-223-9662 or visiting http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/complaintprocess.html

4) File with the CT Commission on Human Rights and Opportunities 800-477-5737/860-541-3400

5) Call DCF (Dept of Children & Families) if child abuse is suspected - (800) 842-2288

6) Call police if possible criminal matter

When a school official knowingly allows the harassment of a gay student to continue, that school official violates the student’s right to equal protection under the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution.28 Furthermore, this note argues that school officials who do not take steps to end known anti-gay harassment of students by peers are not shielded, even under the lowest level of scrutiny, from personal liability by the affirmative defense of qualified immunity. A Short (and very incomplete) LGBT History 1969: Angered by police harassment of patrons of the Stonewall Inn, a New York gay bar, LGBT residents in the area fight back during a raid, initiating several days of violence, called the “Stonewall Riots”. Many consider this event as the “genesis” of the modern LGBT rights movement in America. Also in 1969, CT became only the 2nd state to repeal its sodomy laws.

1973: The American Psychiatric Association votes to remove homosexuality from its list of “illnesses”, calls for the decriminalization of homosexuality and the passage of civil rights protections for gays and lesbians, supposedly ending a century of efforts by psychologists to “cure” LGBT people (note current reparative therapy debate nearly 30 years later!).

1974: The National Education Association adds sexual orientation to its non-discrimination policies and calls for all other professional educational associations to do the same.

1975: The American Psychological Association calls upon its members to remove the stigma of mental illness from the treatment of homosexuals.

1982: Wisconsin becomes the first state to ban employment discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation. Today, 15 states (including CT) have similar legislation. The states (and the year the laws were enacted) are Wisconsin (1982); Massachusetts (1989); Connecticut and Hawaii (1991); California, New Jersey, and Vermont (1992); Minnesota (1993); Rhode Island (1995); New Hampshire (1997); Nevada (1999); Maryland (2001); New York (2002); New Mexico (2003); Illinois (2005) Note that 35 states still allow an individual to be fired because of their orientation, and that there is no civil rights recourse for such discrimination in those states. Currently, five States protect people on the basis of Gender Identity/Expression: CA, IL, MN, NM, and RI

1983: The American Academy of Pediatrics calls on its constituents to serve all youths struggling with their sexual identity.

1986: In a 5-4 vote, the Supreme Court upholds the sodomy laws of the state of Georgia in the Bowers v. Hartwick decision. As a result, government continued to have the right to arrest consenting adults having sex in the privacy of their own homes in 24 states. CT repealed its sodomy laws in 1969. Georgia overturned its sodomy statutes in the 1999 legislative session.

1986: In Fremont, CA, Becky Smith and Annie Afleck became the first openly lesbian couple in the United States to be granted legal, joint adoption of a child.

1988: The National Education Association adopts a resolution calling for every school district to provide counseling for students struggling with their sexual orientation.

1989: Denmark becomes the first nation to legalize gay unions (a step short of same sex marriage); Norway allows Same Sex marriage in 1993.

Canada recently passed similar legislation. Currently, none of the 50 states allow same-sex marriage, though VT and CA offer Civil Unions.

1990: The Hate Crimes Statistics Act becomes the 1st federal law to include “sexual orientation”—for counting purposes only.

1991: The American School Health Association passes a resolution that calls for the end of discrimination against gay and lesbian youths and outlines a series of steps to assist these adolescents in schools.

1993: MA becomes the first state to ban discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation against public high school students.

1997: CT adds sexual orientation to the Student Bill of Rights protecting students from discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation. About Seven States currently include this protection – MA, WI, CT, CA, MN, VT, NJ). Three explicitly include transgender students (CA, MI, NJ). Those laws cover over 1.19 million students, 25 percent of the country’s school children. Rhode Island, while not having a legal mandate from the legislature, does have a statewide regulation from its Department of Education that protects LGBT students from harassment.

2000: Vermont makes history by creating a legal same sex relationship called “Civil Unions”, which provide same sex couples in Vermont with legal rights and responsibilities similar to married couples. These rights are not portable from state to state in the way that marriage rights are – and do not include the more than 1,000 federal rights or responsibilities of marriage.

2000: CT passes co-parent legislation allowing both same sex and unmarried opposite sex couples to adopt children. Currently, more than 20 states (including NY, RI, MA, NJ) allow same sex co-parent adoptions, although CT, VT and NJ are the only three to explicitly address it by statute.

2001: Maryland becomes the 12th state to include sexual orientation within its civil rights statutes.

2002: CT Activists continue to lobby for same sex marriage rights. There are 588 Statutes in CT which reference civil marriage-related rights and responsibilities but which are provided only within the confines of legal marriage. The vast majority of these rights and responsibilities can not be provided through contracts or other legal documents. A handful of new rights were passed in 2002 including the right to contract for next-of-kin-like status (allowing hospital and nursing home visitation, for example.)

2003/2004: California passes an inclusive Domestic Partnership Law, similar to Vermont’s Civil Unions; Two Provinces in Canada (Ontario and British Columbia) join the Netherlands and Belgium as countries that allow same sex marriage. New Mexico becomes the first state to pass both hate crimes and nondiscrimination bills with gender identity in both bills. California passes an employment anti-discrimination law that includes Gender Identity and Expression. In CT, Bills regarding same sex marriage and adding gender identity/expression and disability to current hate crime statutes are likely to be introduced. MA courts declare that anything short of civil same sex marriage is unconstitutional.

2004: Massachusetts become the first state in the union to legalize same sex civil marriage for MA residents. 8 couples in CT file a lawsuit claiming that CT’s current exclusion of same sex couples from civil marriage is discriminatory. CT State Department of Children and Families (DCF) passes non-discrimination language that includes both sexual orientation and gender identity and expression. 11 States pass constitutional amendments to prevent same sex marriage.

2005: CT organizations take a stand that anything short of marriage (including civil unions) is separate and unequal, and the therefore unacceptable.
Impact of Participation in LGBT Organizations

YOU can make a tremendous difference in the lives of LGBT youth by helping them to connect appropriately with a community of peers, role models and mentors. Find out what resources are available in your community and use them. If no resources are available, find out what you can do to get them started. Tips on creating an effective community organization and a partial list of available resources follows. And remember, True Colors is always a resource for LGBT youth, adults, families and allies.

Sexual minority youth who are able to find and interact with the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender (LGBT) community (especially in venues outside of the bars) fare better emotionally and psychologically than those who remain isolated and in hiding. (Hershberger, 1993 and 1995; Dempsey, 1994).

Initially, adolescents are often looking for a level of support, information, and acknowledgment to deal with the heightened anxiety and “inner anguish” that comes from their recognition (fear) that they might be “LGB or T”. (Dempsey, 1994). As they begin to integrate their identity, however, they begin to look for and need more social kinds of interactions, e.g. — friends, mentors, etc.

Those who are responsible for the health and well-being of adolescents, including those who are LGBT, have an obligation to identify and support age-appropriate resources within the LGBT community. Community Organizations, especially those involved with advocacy and education, offer some unique opportunities to encourage and foster positive adolescent development. Here are just some of the potential benefits of participating in community organizations:

- Develop and Enhance Socialization
  - Group Identification (having a sense of “belonging” with others who like and are like them)
  - Social Ties/Social Support/Social Integration (critical elements of adolescent development!)
  - Peer (and adult) affirmation and comparisons

- Role modeling
  - Relationships between Sexual Minority adults can model an integration of sexuality with other aspects of one’s life and sense of self
  - Mentoring (helping young people see the full range of who they can be!)
  - Interactions with LGBT adults and youth whose “lifestyles” defy and correct stereotypes

- Leadership Development
  - Enhance and capitalize on strengths such as their creative coping skills, their ability to monitor and understand their environments, their self-awareness
  - Organizational Skills (planning events, running meetings, etc.)
  - Media and public speaking skills

- Empowerment
  - Shared decision-making
  - Increased feelings of competency, efficacy and confidence
  - Decreased feelings of helplessness

- Self-Esteem
  - Identity Consolidation (an improved ability to integrate sexual orientation as a coherent part of a broader social, sexual and psychological identity)
Youth Development Framework *

Integrating a youth development framework into your organizational planning has a number of benefits for the youth, the adults that work with them. And for your agency or organization as a whole! Individuals who are valued, affirmed, and nurtured blossom – regardless of their age! As you plan activities, organizing strategies -- even meetings -- you may find it helpful to review the elements that constitute the development of a healthy identity and ability. Examples of how True Colors has integrated these elements into our work follow:

1. Aspects of Identity: Young people demonstrate a positive identity when they have a sense of personal well-being and a sense of connection and commitment to others in each of the following areas.
   a. Safety and Structure: a perception that one is safe and that daily events are somewhat predictable
   b. Self-worth: a perception that one is a "good" person who contributes to oneself and others
   c. Mastery and Future: a perception that one is "making it" and will succeed in the future
   d. Belonging and Membership: a perception that one values, and is valued by, others in the family and community
   e. Responsibility and Autonomy: a perception that one has some control over daily events and is accountable for one's own actions and for the consequences on others
   f. Self-awareness and Spirituality: a perception that one is unique and is intimately attached to extended families, cultural groups, communities, higher deities, and/or principles

2. Areas of Ability: Young people demonstrate ability when they gain knowledge, skills and attitudes that prepare them for Adulthood.
   a. Physical Health: the ability and motivation to act in ways that best ensure current and future physical health for self and others
   b. Mental Health: the ability and motivation to respond affirmatively to and cope with positive and adverse situations, to reflect on one's emotions and surroundings, and to engage in leisure and fun
   c. Intellectual Ability: the ability and motivation to learn in school and in other settings, to gain the basic knowledge needed to graduate high school, to use critical thinking, to be creative, to use problem-solving and expressive skills and to conduct independent study
   d. Employability: the ability and motivation to gain the functional and organizational skills necessary for employment, including an understanding of careers and options, and the steps necessary to reach goals
   e. Civic and Social Ability: the ability and motivation to respect and affirmatively respond to differences among groups and individuals of diverse backgrounds, interests, and traditions

Creating an Effective LGBT Youth/Adult Organization

❖ Outreach (focus on youth who are already LGBT-identified)
  ✓ Word of Mouth/Youth Oriented Events, Existing Youth Groups (Community and GSA’s)
  ✓ Use the Internet! Many LGBT youth find community there!
  ✓ Access both Mainstream and LGBT media, newsletters, school newspapers, guidance offices, etc.
  ✓ True Colors can also be a support in helping you outreach to youth via our newsletters and contacts.

❖ Create and Nurture a “Youth and Adults As Partners” Philosophy
  ✓ “Partners” implies that the work is non-hierarchical and that youth and adults are equal peers in the process.
  ✓ Make the meetings accessible for youth in terms of time, space, transportation. Consider the possibility of stipends.
  ✓ Ensure that youth have real decision-making power and are involved in identifying those issues of importance to them, developing plans of action and implementing those plans.
  ✓ Make sure something is accomplished at every meeting and that young people have an opportunity to develop new knowledge and practical skills as a result of their involvement.
  ✓ Make sure that meetings combine interesting activities (like brainstorming or small group sessions) with the more tedious organizational activities to keep youth (and adults!) focused and involved.
  ✓ Be honest (and realistic) about your expectations for both youth and adult participants and hold each accountable. Treat each teen as an individual (don’t expect them to represent all other youth); Don’t move too fast in a meeting. Some youth are not used to sitting at the table as peers with adults and may need time to adjust. Adults who are accustomed to working with youth only as clients, students or subordinates may need support in adjusting their expectations and attitudes as well.
  ✓ Short and Long Term Goal Planning should be realistic, timely, and reviewed regularly. Encourage members to evaluate their own time commitments (with youth especially, watch out for “burn-out”).

❖ Encourage Internal Communication
  ✓ Begin each session with provided refreshments (and encourage folks to bring in something).
  ✓ Use Opening Exercises to help orient new members and continue the bonding/social interactions of existing members.
  ✓ Allow time for each member to provide activity updates. Make a conscious effort to create a feeling of “synergy” where youth and adults have opportunities to explore the strengths (and challenges) that each bring to the table.
  ✓ Provide monthly Newsletter/Meeting Minutes (to update individuals who couldn’t attend, remind people about the tasks they took on, identify and reward member efforts).
  ✓ Encourage/foster the group’s ability to discuss and resolve disagreements (codes of conduct/standards of discourse; soliciting diverse opinions; encouraging brainstorming; seeking consensus when possible).

❖ Consciously Foster Morale
  ✓ Regularly and publicly acknowledge the contributions of group members during meetings, and in organizational communications like newsletters and minutes.
  ✓ Promote Shared Responsibility (for example, have the group define the tasks associated with a particular event and decide together who will handle what parts.)
  ✓ Sponsor events with a social purpose (victory dinners/summer picnics, etc.) and include strong social aspects in regular and task oriented meetings (offer food, encourage open conversation during tasks like mailings, etc).

❖ Provide Rewards and Benefits of Membership
  ✓ The first rule of organizing is to remember that all volunteers participate for reasons of their own (altruism is self-interest dressed to go out...).
  ✓ Conduct on-going evaluations designed to identify and meet the needs of individual members, remembering that what motivates an individual changes over time.
  ✓ Be successful (develop a reputation as a worthwhile organization, so that membership becomes status-generating).
Riddle Scale

The following scale, adapted from a measure developed by Dr. Dorothy Riddle, a psychologist from Tucson, Arizona, allows people to measure themselves along a continuum of values, attitudes and beliefs about homosexuality. The scale, and the differentiation between the various levels is arbitrary and simply provides a way of thinking about where people might stand in their beliefs and values. Knowing where one stands now allows individuals to determine whether or not a gap exists between personal beliefs and the professional responsibility to provide competent, affirming, and non-discriminatory service to lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender (LGBT) youth, adults and families. It allows an individual to decide, “Is this where I want to be? Does this position serve myself and my students/clients/constituents appropriately.” If not, one then has the opportunity to develop strategies to better negotiate the personal/professional values conundrum...

1) Condemnation: Homosexuality is deviant, abnormal and a sin.

2) Pity: Heterosexuality is morally preferable to homosexuality and bisexuality. Any possibility of becoming “straight” should be reinforced.

3) Tolerance: May have strong anti-homosexuality feelings, but understands that tolerance of difference is expected within the workplace, school environment and other public arenas.

4) Acceptance: Implies there is something to accept, characterized by such statements as: “You’re not a lesbian to me, you just a person!” or, “Whatever you do in bed is your business, just don’t flaunt it.”

5) Support: Works to safeguard the rights of LGBTI people. People at this level may be uncomfortable themselves, but they understand their responsibilities to ensure understanding, equality, civil rights for all people.

6) Appreciation: Acknowledges that being LGBTI in our society takes strength and resilience. People at this level are willing to truly examine their homophobic attitudes, values and behaviors. Values the diversity of people and sees LGBTI people as a valid part of that diversity. People at this level are willing to combat homophobia in themselves and others.

7) Affirmation: Assumes that LGBTI people are indispensable in our society. Views LGBTI people with genuine affection and delight, and is willing to take action to become an ally and advocate.
LA ESCALA RIDDLE

(Texto derivado de ABORDANDO LA TEMÁTICA GAY EN LA ESCUELA, adaptado por Robin McHaelen y traducido por Nila Marrone):

La escala que sigue fue desarrollada por la Dra. Dorothy Riddle, una sicóloga de Tucson, Arizona. Por medio de ella, se puede ver dónde se encuentra Ud. en este continuo de valores, actitudes y creencias. El saber dónde está Ud. en la escala, le permite decidir si existe o no una discrepancia entre sus creencias personales y sus responsabilidades profesionales de suministrar un servicio competente, positivo y no discriminatorio a niños y adultos LGBT, y a sus familias. Le rogamos leer con cuidado cada definición y encontrar el nivel que le corresponde. Sea lo más honesto/a que pueda. No tendrá que compartir esta información con nadie.

1. Repulsión - La homosexualidad es vista como una desviación, una anormalidad y "un crimen contra la naturaleza". Las gente LGBT son enfermos, locos, inmorales, pecaminosos, malvados, etc. Todo se justifica para cambiarlos: la prisión, la hospitalización, terapia de aversión, terapia de electroshock, etc.

2. Lástima - La heterosexualidad es más madura y desde luego preferible. Toda posibilidad de "volverse hetero" debería ser reforzada, y sentir lástima por aquellos que parecen haber nacido "así", "probrecitos".

3. Tolerancia - Es posible que se tenga fuertes sentimientos anti-homosexuales, pero se comprende que en el trabajo, la escuela y en general en público, se espera que uno demuestre tolerancia a los que son diferentes. Puede que considere que la homosexualidad es simplemente una fase del desarrollo por la que pasa mucha gente en la adolescencia y la mayoría "la supera".

4. Aceptación - Aún implica algo que necesita ser aceptado. Se caracteriza por afirmaciones como "¡Para mí no eres lesbiana, eres una persona!" o "¡Lo que hagas en la cama es asunto tuyo" o "No tengo problema con eso, mientras no hagas alarde de ello".

5. Apoyo - Trabajar para resguardar los derechos de la gente LGBT. La gente puede sentirse incómoda en este nivel, pero sabe que es imprescindible luchar por la igualdad y los derechos civiles de toda la gente.

6. Admiración - Reconocer que se necesita fortaleza y resiliencia para ser LGBT en nuestra sociedad. La gente en este nivel está dispuesta a examinar sus actitudes, valores y comportamientos homofóbicos.

7. Apreciación - Valorar la diversidad en la gente y ver a las personas LGBT como una parte válida de esa diversidad. Esta gente está dispuesta a combatir la homofobia en ellos mismos y en otros.

8. Apreciación y apoyo activo - Considerar que las personas LGBTson indispensables en nuestra sociedad. Ellos ven a la gente LGBT con afecto y alegría genuinos, y están dispuestos a ser aliados y activistas.

¿Qué es la orientación sexual?
La orientación sexual es una duradera atracción emocional, romántica, sexual o afectiva hacia otra persona. Es fácilmente distinguible de otros componentes de la sexualidad, incluyendo el sexo biológico; la identidad de género (la sensación sociológica de ser hombre o mujer) y el rol social de género (la adherencia a las normas culturales del comportamiento masculino y femenino).

La orientación sexual existe en un continuo que abarca desde la homosexualidad exclusiva hasta la heterosexualidad exclusiva, e incluye varias formas de bisexualidad. Las personas bisexuales pueden experimentar atracción sexual, emocional y afectiva tanto hacia gente de su propio sexo como hacia el del sexo opuesto. A las personas con una orientación homosexual a veces se les refiere como gays (a hombres y también a hombres y mujeres) o como lesbianas (sólo a las mujeres).

La orientación sexual es diferente del comportamiento sexual, porque se refiere a sentimientos y al concepto de sí mismo. Las personas pueden expresar, o no, su orientación sexual en su comportamiento.

¿Cuál es la causa para que una persona tenga una orientación sexual en particular?
Hay numerosas teorías acerca de los orígenes de la orientación sexual de una persona. Hoy en día la mayoría de los científicos está de acuerdo en que lo más probable es que resulta de una compleja interacción de factores ambientales, cognitivos y biológicos. En la mayor parte de la gente la orientación sexual se establece a una edad temprana. También hay considerable evidencia reciente que sugiere que la biología, incluyendo factores genéticos y hormonales innatos, juega un papel significativo en la sexualidad de una persona.

En resumen, es importante reconocer que probablemente existen muchas razones para la orientación sexual de una persona, y que las razones pueden ser diferentes para diferentes personas.

¿Se elige la orientación sexual?
No, los seres humanos no pueden elegir ser gays o híteros. La orientación sexual emerge para la mayor parte de la gente en la adolescencia temprana, sin ninguna experiencia sexual previa. Aunque podemos elegir si actuamos conforme a nuestros sentimientos, los psicólogos no consideran que la orientación sexual sea una elección consciente que pueda ser cambiada voluntariamente.
¿Puede cambiarse la orientación sexual mediante terapia?
No. A pesar de que la mayoría de los homosexuales viven vidas exitosas y felices, alguna gente homosexual o bisexual puede buscar cambiar su orientación sexual mediante terapia, a veces presionados a intentarlo por influencia de miembros de la familia o de grupos religiosos. La realidad es que la homosexualidad no es una enfermedad. No requiere tratamiento y no es cambiable. Sin embargo no toda la gente gay, lesbiana y bisexual que busca asistencia de un profesional de la salud mental quiere cambiar su orientación sexual. La gente gay, lesbiana y bisexual puede buscar ayuda sicológica para el proceso de salir del closet o para lidiar con los prejuicios; pero la mayor parte va a terapia por las mismas razones y circunstancias de la vida que traen a la gente heterosexual hacia los profesionales de la salud mental.

Algunos terapeutas que realizan las llamadas terapias de conversión informan que han sido capaces de cambiar la orientación sexual de sus clientes, de homosexual a heterosexual. El escrutinio cuidadoso, sin embargo, muestra varios factores que ponen en duda sus afirmaciones. Por ejemplo, muchos de los informes provienen de organizaciones con una perspectiva ideológica que condena la homosexualidad. Además, sus alegatos están pobremente documentados. Por ejemplo, al concluir el tratamiento no hay un seguimiento ni se informa qué sucede durante un periodo largo, como sería lo estándar en cualquier intervención de salud mental. A la Asociación Americana de Sicológia le preocupa tales terapias y el daño potencial a los pacientes. En 1997, el Consejo de Representantes de la Asociación aprobó una resolución reafirmando la oposición al tratamiento homofóbico, y expresando el derecho del cliente a un tratamiento imparcial y a la autodeterminación. Cualquier persona que entra a terapia para tratar cuestiones de orientación sexual tiene el derecho de esperar que esa terapia tenga lugar en un ambiente profesional neutral, en ausencia de cualquier prejuicio social.

¿Es la homosexualidad una enfermedad mental o un problema emocional?
No. Los sicológos, siquiatras y otros profesionales de la salud mental están de acuerdo con que la homosexualidad no es una enfermedad, un desorden mental, ni un problema emocional. Más de 35 años de investigación científica objetiva, bien diseñada, ha demostrado que la homosexualidad, en sí misma, no está asociada con desórdenes mentales ni con problemas emocionales o sociales. Alguna vez se pensó que la homosexualidad era una enfermedad mental porque la sociedad y los profesionales de la salud mental tenían información prejudiciada.

En el pasado, los estudios sobre gente gay, lesbiana y bisexual incluía a pacientes en terapia, con lo cual se distorsiona el resultado. Cuando los investigadores examinaron los datos de personas que no estaban en terapia, rápidamente se dieron cuenta de que era falsa la idea que la homosexualidad era una enfermedad mental.

En 1973 la Asociación America de Siquiatría confirmó la importancia de nuevas investigaciones mejor diseñadas y eliminó la homosexualidad del manual que enumera los desórdenes mentales y emocionales. Dos años después, la Asociación Americana de Sicológia aprobó una resolución que respaldaba esa remoción.

Por más de 25 años, ambas asociaciones han exhortado a todos los profesionales de la salud mental a que ayuden a disipar el estigma de enfermedad mental que alguna gente todavía asocia con la orientación homosexual.

¿Pueden ser buenos padres los hombres gays, las lesbianas y los bisexuales?
Sí. Los estudios que comparan grupos de niños educados por padres homosexuales y por padres heterosexuales no han hallado diferencia en el desarrollo entre los dos grupos de niños en cuatro áreas críticas: su inteligencia, ajuste sicológico, ajuste social y popularidad con sus amigos. También es importante darse cuenta que la orientación sexual del padre no indica la de sus hijos. Otro mito acerca de la homosexualidad es la creencia equivocada que los hombres gays tienen mayor tendencia a abusar sexualmente a los niños que los hombres heterosexuales. No hay evidencia que sugiera que hay más homosexuales que heterosexuales que abusen a los niños.

¿Por qué los gays, las lesbianas y los bisexuales revelan su orientación sexual?
Porque el compartir con otros ese aspecto de sí mismos es importante para su salud mental. En efecto, se ha descubierto que el proceso de desarrollo de la identidad para las lesbianas, los gays y los bisexuales, llamado "salir del closet", está fuertemente relacionado con el ajuste sicológico mientras más positiva sea la identidad gay, lesbiana o bisexual, mejor será su salud mental y más alta será su autoestima.
¿Por qué es difícil el proceso de “salir del closet” para alguna gente gay, lesbiana y bisexual?

Para alguna gente gay y bisexual el proceso de salir del closet es difícil, para otros no lo es. Frecuentemente la gente lesbiana, gay y bisexual siente temor, se siente diferente y sola cuando por primera vez se da cuenta que su orientación sexual es diferente a la norma de la comunidad. Esto es particularmente cierto para la gente que se da cuenta de su orientación gay, lesbiana o bisexual siendo niño o adolescente, lo cual no es poco común. Dependiendo de sus familias y de dónde viven, pueden tener que luchar contra prejuicios y desinformación acerca de la homosexualidad.

Niños y adolescentes pueden ser particularmente vulnerables a los efectos nocivos de prejuicios y estereotipos. También pueden temer el ser rechazados por su familia, amigos, compañeros de trabajo e instituciones religiosas. Alguna gente gay tiene que preocuparse de no perder su trabajo, o ser hostigado en la escuela, si se conoce su orientación sexual.

Lamentablemente la gente gay, lesbiana y bisexual tienen un mayor riesgo que los heterosexuales de sufrir asaltos físicos y violencia. Estudios realizados en California a mediados de los años noventa mostraron que casi la quinta parte de las lesbianas que participaron en el estudio, y más de la cuarta parte de los hombres gay que participaron, habían sido víctimas de algún crimen por odio, basado en su orientación sexual. En otro estudio realizado en California con aproximadamente 500 adultos jóvenes, la mitad de todos los hombres jóvenes participantes admitieron haber sido víctimas de alguna forma de agresión anti-gay, desde insultos hasta violencia física.

¿Qué se puede hacer para ayudar a gays y lesbianas en la lucha contra los prejuicios y la discriminación hacia ellos?

La investigación ha encontrado que la gente que tiene las actitudes más positivas hacia los gays, las lesbianas y los bisexuales, es aquella que dice conocer bien a una o más personas gay -- frecuentemente como amigos/as o compañeros/as de trabajo. Por esta razón, los sicólogos creen que las actitudes negativas hacia la gente gay, como grupo, no tienen su fundamento en experiencias reales, sino que se basan en estereotipos y prejuicios. Además, la protección contra la discriminación y la violencia es muy importante, tal como lo es para cualquier otro grupo minoritario. Algunos estados incluyen la violencia contra un individuo por su orientación sexual como un “crimen por odio”, y diez estados de EE.UU. tienen leyes contra la discriminación basada en la orientación sexual.

¿Por qué motivo es importante que la sociedad esté mejor educada acerca de la homosexualidad?

El educar a toda la gente acerca de la orientación sexual y la homosexualidad es probable que disminuya el prejuicio anti-gay. La información precisa acerca de la homosexualidad es especialmente importante para la gente joven que está descubriendo y buscando entender por primera vez su sexualidad -- ya sea ésta homosexual, bisexual o heterosexual. No tienen validez los temores de que tal información hará gay a más gente -- la información acerca de la homosexualidad no hace a nadie gay o hétero.

¿Están infectados de VIH todos los hombres gays y bisexuales?

No. Este es un mito frecuente. En realidad, el riesgo de quedar expuesto al VIH está relacionado con el comportamiento de la persona, no con su orientación sexual. Lo que es importante recordar acerca del VIH/SIDA es que es una enfermedad evitable mediante el uso de prácticas de sexo seguro y no utilizando drogas.

¿Dónde puedo encontrar más información acerca de la homosexualidad?

What Is Sexual Orientation?

Sexual Orientation is an enduring emotional, romantic, sexual or affectional attraction to another person. It is easily distinguished from other components of sexuality including biological sex, gender identity (the psychological sense of being male or female) and the social gender role (adherence to cultural norms for feminine and masculine behavior).

Sexual orientation exists along a continuum that ranges from exclusive homosexuality to exclusive heterosexuality and includes various forms of bisexuality. Bisexual persons can experience sexual, emotional and affectional attraction to both their own sex and the opposite sex. Persons with a homosexual orientation are sometimes referred to as gay (both men and women) or as lesbian (women only).

Sexual orientation is different from sexual behavior because it refers to feelings and self-concept. Persons may or may not express their sexual orientation in their behaviors.

What Causes a Person To Have a Particular Sexual Orientation?

There are numerous theories about the origins of a person's sexual orientation; most scientists today agree that sexual orientation is most likely the result of a complex interaction of environmental, cognitive and biological factors. In most people, sexual orientation is shaped at an early age. There is also considerable recent evidence to suggest that biology, including genetic or inborn hormonal factors, play a significant role in a person's sexuality.

In summary, it is important to recognize that there are probably many reasons for a person's sexual orientation and the reasons may be different for different people.

Is Sexual Orientation a Choice?

No, human beings can not choose to be either gay or straight. Sexual orientation emerges for most people in early adolescence without any prior sexual experience. Although we can choose whether to act on our feelings, psychologists do not consider sexual orientation to be a conscious choice that can be voluntarily changed.

Can Therapy Change Sexual Orientation?

No. Even though most homosexuals live successful, happy lives, some homosexual or bisexual people may seek to change their sexual orientation through therapy, sometimes pressured by the influence of family members or religious groups to try and do so. The reality is that homosexuality is not an illness. It does not require treatment and is not changeable. However, not all gay, lesbian, and bisexual people who seek assistance from a mental health professional want to change their sexual orientation. Gay, lesbian, and bisexual people may seek psychological help with the coming out process or for strategies to deal with prejudice, but most go into therapy for the same reasons and life issues that bring straight people to mental health professionals.
What About So-Called "Conversion Therapies"?

Some therapists who undertake so-called conversion therapy report that they have been able to change their clients' sexual orientation from homosexual to heterosexual. Close scrutiny of these reports however shows several factors that cast doubt on their claims. For example, many of the claims come from organizations with an ideological perspective which condemns homosexuality. Furthermore, their claims are poorly documented. For example, treatment outcome is not followed and reported over time as would be the standard to test the validity of any mental health intervention.

The American Psychological Association is concerned about such therapies and their potential harm to patients. In 1997, the Association’s Council of Representatives passed a resolution reaffirming psychology’s opposition to homophobia in treatment and spelling out a client’s right to unbiased treatment and self-determination. Any person who enters into therapy to deal with issues of sexual orientation has a right to expect that such therapy would take place in a professionally neutral environment absent of any social bias.

Is Homosexuality a Mental Illness or Emotional Problem?

No. Psychologists, psychiatrists and other mental health professionals agree that homosexuality is not an illness, mental disorder or an emotional problem. Over 35 years of objective, well-designed scientific research has shown that homosexuality, in and itself, is not associated with mental disorders or emotional or social problems. Homosexuality was once thought to be a mental illness because mental health professionals and society had biased information.

In the past the studies of gay, lesbian and bisexual people involved only those in therapy, thus biasing the resulting conclusions. When researchers examined data about these people who were not in therapy, the idea that homosexuality was a mental illness was quickly found to be untrue.

In 1973 the American Psychiatric Association confirmed the importance of the new, better designed research and removed homosexuality from the official manual that lists mental and emotional disorders. Two years later, the American Psychological Association passed a resolution supporting the removal.

For more than 25 years, both associations have urged all mental health professionals to help dispel the stigma of mental illness that some people still associate with homosexual orientation.

Can Lesbians, Gay Men, and Bisexuals Be Good Parents?

Yes. Studies comparing groups of children raised by homosexual and by heterosexual parents find no developmental differences between the two groups of children in four critical areas: their intelligence, psychological adjustment, social adjustment, and popularity with friends. It is also important to realize that a parent’s sexual orientation does not indicate their children’s.

Another myth about homosexuality is the mistaken belief that gay men have more of a tendency than heterosexual men to sexually molest children. There is no evidence to suggest that homosexuals molest children more often than heterosexuals.

Why Do Some Gay Men, Lesbians and Bisexuals Tell People About Their Sexual Orientation?

Because sharing that aspect of themselves with others is important to their mental health. In fact, the process of identity development for lesbians, gay men and bisexuals called "coming out", has been found to be strongly related to psychological adjustment—the more positive the gay, lesbian, or bisexual identity, the better one's mental health and the higher one's self-esteem.

Why Is the "Coming Out" Process Difficult for Some Gay, Lesbian and Bisexual People?

For some gay and bisexual people the coming out process is difficult, for others it is not. Often lesbian, gay and bisexual people feel afraid, different, and alone when they first realize that their sexual orientation is different from the community norm. This is particularly true for people becoming aware of their gay, lesbian, or bisexual orientation as a child or adolescent, which is not uncommon. And, depending on their families and where they live, they may have to struggle against prejudice and misinformation about homosexuality.

Children and adolescents may be particularly vulnerable to the deleterious effects of bias and stereotypes. They may also fear being rejected by family, friends, co-workers, and religious institutions. Some gay people have to worry about losing their jobs or being harassed at school if their sexual orientation became well known.

Unfortunately, gay, lesbian and bisexual people are at a higher risk for physical assault and violence than are heterosexuals. Studies done in California in the mid 1990s showed that nearly one-fifth of all lesbians who took part in the study and more than one-fourth of all gay men who participated had been the victim of a hate crime based on their sexual orientation. In another California study of approximately 500 young adults, half of all the young men participating in the study admitted to some form of anti-gay aggression from name-calling to physical violence.
What Can Be Done to Overcome the Prejudice and Discrimination that Gay Men, Lesbians, and Bisexuals Experience?
Research has found that the people who have the most positive attitudes toward gay men, lesbians and bisexuals are those who say they know one or more gay, lesbian or bisexual person well—often as a friend or co-worker. For this reason, psychologists believe negative attitudes toward gay people as a group are prejudices that are not grounded in actual experiences but are based on stereotypes and prejudice. Furthermore, protection against violence and discrimination are very important, just as they are for any other minority groups. Some states include violence against an individual on the basis of his or her sexual orientation as a “hate crime” and twelve U.S. states have laws against discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation.

Why is it Important for Society to be Better Educated About Homosexuality?
Educating all people about sexual orientation and homosexuality is likely to diminish anti-gay prejudice. Accurate information about homosexuality is especially important to young people who are first discovering and seeking to understand their sexuality—whether homosexual, bisexual, or heterosexual. Fears that access to such information will make more people gay have no validity—information about homosexuality does not make someone gay or straight.

Are All Gay and Bisexual Men HIV Infected?
No. This is a commonly held myth. In reality, the risk of exposure to HIV is related to a person's behavior, not their sexual orientation. What's important to remember about HIV/AIDS is it is a preventable disease through the use of safe sex practices and by not using drugs.

Creating a Safe Social and Health Service Environment

These guidelines were summarized from a report by the Gay & Lesbian Medical Association (www.glma.org), and a Safe Harbors, Task Force Meeting regarding LGBTI youth in out-of-home care.

1) Create a Welcoming Environment: LGBTI clients often ‘scan’ an office for clues to help them determine to what extent the office, staff or agency is affirming of their sexual orientation or gender identity. You may want to implement some of the following suggestions as appropriate to your setting:
   a. Posters showing racially and ethnically diverse same sex couples or families (a list of possible posters is available in this resource guide on page 14)
   b. LGBTI friendly stickers, symbols posted in offices or doors (e.g. safe zone stickers; rainbow flag, etc.)
   c. Visible non-discrimination statement that explicitly includes orientation and gender identity/expression
   d. Provide at least one universal, gender inclusive ‘restroom’ so that people are not faced with the issue of choosing the ‘right’ or ‘wrong’ bathroom.
   e. Providing LGBTI specific media such as this resource guide, local or national magazines or newsletters. Post appropriate resource information and activities.

2) Intake forms and inclusive language: Filling out intake forms gives clients their first, and most important, impressions of the extent to which their identity and families systems are recognized and affirmed. Review your forms for inclusive language on sex, gender, relationship status, and family structures. In addition, if your practice is likely to include transgender and intersex people, additional training about their unique health, mental health and other concerns is critical to effective, competent service delivery.
   a. When discussing sexual history, it is very important to reflect client language and terminology about their partners and their behavior. Many people do not define themselves through a sexual identity label, yet may have sex with persons of their same sex or gender, or with more than one sex. If you identify an individual as ‘gay’ when they don’t self-identify in that way, you can damage rapport and trust. Respect transgender patients by using appropriate pronouns for their gender expression. If you are unsure, ask in a gentle, respectful way.
   b. When talking about sexual or relationship partners, use gender-neutral language such as “partner(s)” or significant other(s). Ask open-ended questions and don’t assume the gender of a client’s partner(s) or sexual behaviors. Don’t assume that current and past behaviors are the same. Look for ways in which stereotypes can impact the questions you ask and don’t ask (for example, not asking a gay man about children; or not asking a woman who identifies as lesbian about STI risks).
   c. Within DCF, many forms (such as potential foster parent interview forms) have been updated to include gender-neutral language. Practice using that language until you are comfortable with it. If the forms is not neutral, practice asking the question in a way that is.
   d. Ask violence screening questions in a gender neutral way: have you been physically or sexually hurt (are you currently being hurt, have you ever experienced being hurt) by someone you love or by a stranger? Have you ever been sexually assaulted or raped?

3) Some important “Do’s” (from the True Colors/DCF Safe Harbors Task Force Meeting):
   a. Consistently challenge biased remarks regardless of the source.
   b. Understand that questioning, exploration, and fluidity is normal for adolescents
   c. Challenge your pre-conceived ideas of what is good for youth and children in terms of placements, family structure and relationships. Educate yourself about sexuality and gender.
   d. Consider carefully what you place into youth’s records since those records are going to follow them throughout the system.
   e. Use supervision if you are struggling to balance your personal views with your professional responsibilities or if you want to ‘check out’ your assessment or recommendations for hidden biases.
   f. Assess and educate existing and potential foster homes and other residential settings for their openness, comfort level, attitudes and policies regarding sexual orientation and gender identity of youth in their care.
More Action Steps for a Supporting Environment

Here are some ideas you can put into practice immediately upon return to your school or office!

Goals: Reduce violence and harassment and reduce the negative consequences of oppression; Increase self-esteem and a sense of belonging; Assist youth in clarifying their self-identity in positive ways.

Assess the school or agency climate by reviewing (and strengthening where necessary):

- Your own individual attitudes and beliefs; agency policies; access to positive services. (There is an sample agency assessment form that follows.)

Some things you can do as an individual:

- Explore your own assumptions, recognizing the source of some of your thoughts and beliefs and the impact of these beliefs on your works with LGBT youth and families.
- Learn about the connections between anti-LGBT bias and racism, sexism, classism, etc.
- Understand issues that may be unique to LGBT youth such as the fear of discovery; rejection and social isolation; pressure to conform to heterosexuality; potential harassment and violence; alcohol and drug abuse; suicide risks, etc.
- Look for a support network of advocates. Listen and learn from LGBT people. Attend LGBT events, films, workshops, pride marches, PFLAG meetings, etc.
- Examine your use of language: Do your questions and conversations assume heterosexuality of the individual and his/her parents or family?
- Learn about laws, policies and political issues affecting the rights of LGBT people (e.g. Boy Scouts policies, domestic partnerships, second parent adoption, etc.)
- Collect pamphlets, information, community resources to use, share and display.
- Speak up, speak out (understanding and respecting the courage that takes). Educate others by sponsoring events, panels or workshops, offering accurate information upon hearing slurs or myths. Interrupt anti-LGBT jokes, assumptions; write letters to the editor; etc.

Some actions you can take in your school/classroom/agency/program or office:

- Wear a button/sticker that promotes awareness (or use magnets or other posted symbols)
- Assess current posters and add awareness posters that include LGBT examples
- Identify and use opportunities to contradict negative messages. Take advantage of “Teachable moments”. Stop heterosexist jokes or remarks. Speak up in defense and support of LGBT clients, students and staff.
- Identify and use opportunities to integrate LGBT examples in curriculum, lesson plans, intake and other forms, interviews and other client interactions.
- Set and consistently enforce clear rules of behavior that respect and protect diversity; Encourage respectful discussion and debate. (contact Connecticut Women’s Education And Legal Fund or CT chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union or other agencies for pamphlets on the difference between ‘free speech’ and ‘hate language’.

Some things your school or agency can do:

- Create and enforce clear policies. For sample policies, contact The American Academy of Pediatrics; The American Medical Association; The American Psychiatric Association; the National Association of Social Workers; Child Welfare League of America; the National Education Association; The American Federation of Teachers; The American Bar Association; The American School Counselor Association; the American School Health Association; and others with inclusive policies (or see Gay Lesbian Straight Education Network (GLSEN/CT’s) “Tackling Gay Issues in School” for samples of some of the above.)
- Provide in-service learning opportunities for workers, supervisors and other staff; Invite positive LGBT role models to in-service or classroom presentations
- Support access to confidential support services with skilled and aware staff

Special thanks to participants in True Colors Workshops, the Rainbow Center at UCONN and PFLAG Hartford for many of the above ideas!
Assessment is a critical first step in ensuring that your school, your agency or your organization is safe, inclusive and affirming of all your constituents, including those that are LGBT. The following survey, developed by True Colors, Inc. may be used as an assessment tool in staff meetings, agency trainings, Quality of work life committees, or other programming. True Colors is available for consultation in areas of assessment, in-service training, and policy development/implementation.

1) Are Policies Inclusive of Sexual Orientation and Gender Expression/Identity?
   a) Non-Discrimination Policies
   b) Sexual Harassment Policies
   c) Personnel
      i) Hiring
      ii) Contractual Agreements with employees and vendors
      iii) Domestic Partnership and other Employee Benefits

2) Do policies include written, escalating mechanisms for staff, clients and/or their families to address a perceived breech?
   a) Are staff, clients and/or families aware that these mechanisms exist?
   b) Are the forms or mechanisms readily accessible?
   c) Do staff, clients or families experience an actual or perceived risk in taking action?

3) Is the physical environment safe, inclusive and affirming? (Scanning the areas, could you tell that this is a welcoming environment?)
   a) Public areas
   b) Clients and family areas (including waiting rooms, offices, corridors, etc)
   c) Staff areas
   d) Are restrooms and bathroom facilities gender neutral or are private facilities available and easily accessible?
   e) Do your off-site facilities meet same or similar standards?

4) Are Client/Staff and/or Family Forms inclusive of sexual minority populations incorporating options that recognize relationship status, support networks and family make-up?
   a) Employment Applications
   b) School Registration, Intake, Interview and other initial contact forms
   c) Psycho-sexual history and other treatment planning forms
   d) Other forms specific to your environment?

5) Have all Management Staff (including Board of Directors, Advisory Boards, etc) participated in values clarification and/or non-discrimination in-service, workshops or training?

6) Have all support staff with casual client and/or family contact participated in values clarification and/or non-discrimination in-service, workshops or training?
7) Have all staff with direct student/client contact or responsibilities participated in values clarification in-service, workshops or training that includes an analysis of the impact of personal values on professional performance?

8) Have all staff with direct service participated in skill development and cultural competency-based curriculum or training that includes an exploration of issues specific to this population in your environment? Some examples might include:
   a) A skill-building “safe schools or classrooms” workshop that focuses on ways that educators can create safe, affirming learning environments and cultures
   b) An exploration of different models regarding the coming out process, its developmental impact and appropriate interventions through each stage of development and coming out for both LGBT individuals and the children of LGBT parents.
   c) An exploration of differences and distinctions regarding sexual behavior, sexual reactivity, sexual acting out, sexual abuse or assault and sexual orientation.
   e) An exploration/discussion of evolving language regarding orientation and gender: gay, LGBT; LGBTQQTS; queer; genderqueer; MSM, YMSM; etc. and the ways in which self-labeling intersect with identity.
   f) A multi-cultural exploration of the impact of orientation on family and other client support systems

9) Do support services and programs address issues of orientation in peer support groups, social integration and socialization programs through education or other means?

10) Are research initiatives inclusive of issues of sexual orientation in determining target populations; program or treatment developments, outcomes and evaluations; prevention, and risk factor research?

11) Does on-going skill development training (such as teacher education days, morning lectures; grand rounds, etc.) include topics related to sexual orientation?

12) Other?
Tips and Tidbits: Getting a GSA started

1) Find (or be) an interested LGBT or ally student

2) Contact True Colors (888-565-5551) or GLSEN National for a GSA starting package (or come to a True Colors/GLSEN-CT sponsored GSA Summit)

3) Gather like-minded friends

4) Read school guidelines for starting a group

5) Find a faculty advisor who supports your goals as well as teachers who will let themselves be known for availability/support

6) “Clue in” administrators (so they understand where you are coming from and can offer support – offer them information, other GSA and community resources if they have concerns and remind them about the equal access and other relevant statutes as necessary). Assume they will be supportive – but clue them in if they are not.

7) Touch base with school guidance counselors and social workers (they may know students who would be interested in attending the group that you might not know.) In addition, they might be helpful in facilitating meetings about more difficult topics like “coming out”; being with a friend or relative who is LGBT, etc.

8) Have an initial meeting with interested students, advisor or administrator. Be sure you can present reasons that the group is needed.

9) Assess School Atmosphere (identify and reach out to allies; identify potential obstacles/issues and how you will overcome them) You can use the assessment tool on page 39 or make up one of your own.

10) Develop a mission/statement of purpose

11) Contact other local LGBT groups for ideas and/or support (There are lots of contacts throughout this guide!)

12) Establish ground rules for the meetings (even though this will should be created through a discussion at the first meeting, it is helpful for the organizers to have an idea of the kinds of things they want to be sure are included in case the group misses one or two of them.)

13) Establish goals and objectives: What do you want the first session to accomplish?

14) Establish a time and place

15) Advertise meetings (signs, use PA and announcements if possible). Be aware that this will stimulate discussion (both pro and con) and that signs may be torn down or defaced (a hate crime, by the way…). If this happens, inform advisor and administrators and see page 43 for ideas for dealing with backlash.

16) Develop content/ideas for meetings (the group will help do this once formed, but you will need to have ideas for the first session or two or three) See page 42 for lots of great ideas!

17) Hold initial meeting

18) Provide food and snacks

19) Develop talking points

20) Contact the press (if community input and support is in line with the groups goals and objectives)
1) Set up ground rules as a group so that everybody knows and understands the guidelines (like “no assumptions”; respect for other’s opinions and ideas; body language, etc.)

2) Come up with cool topics for discussion. Here are some examples:
- Dealing with homophobia;
- Ways to make your school safer;
- Girls in sports/stereotypes;
- The prom;
- Dealing with sexual feelings;
- Coming out to parents (see page 47 for a list of questions to consider);
- Communicating with authority;
- Coming out at work;
- Coming out in the dorm/to roommates;
- Talking about Pride;
- LGBT history (famous LGBT people);
- How the media portrays LGBT people;
- Balance between myth and reality;
- Planning and raising families;
- Safer sex;
- Sexual Relationships in Literature;
- Naming the Group;
- Q+A’s (where everybody writes down a question and puts it in a hat, people draw one out and everybody discusses it)

3) Use group building skills such as doing an opening exercise and a closing “check-in”; leave time at the beginning for people to vent; make sure everybody gets a chance to talk; come up with a list of ground rules about listening, making assumptions about people, interrupting or dominating the conversation

4) Watch and talk about LGBT movies like Brian McNaught (“Gay Issues in the Workplace”; “Growing Up Gay and Lesbian” and others); Watermelon Woman; “Out of the Past” etc. (See page 14 or www.queerfilm.com for more film ideas)

5) Bring in outside speakers like: Alumni who did or didn’t come out; Clergy people; Stonewall Speakers; Politicians; Parents of LGBT folks; Teachers (straight and gay); Celebrities; etc.

6) Plan and have dances, theme dances (like gender bending or the 70’s); parties; music; etc.

7) Make and distribute safe zone stickers or make and put up posters (about LGBT people, prejudice, diversity, etc.)

8) Do a LGBT article swap or discuss previously brought in or assigned articles

9) Plan and participate in LGBT Pride or LGBT History Month or other awareness activities like the National Day of Silence; the Names Quilt

10) Plan networking activities with other LGBT youth groups

11) Participate in Children from the Shadows as a field trip, or in the planning process

12) Come up with sensitizing activities that you can use in your meetings or present to other clubs or the faculty

13) Figure out how to reach out to students who might be afraid

14) Set up anonymous questions and answer sessions on e-mail and answer them as a group

15) Do a Bring a Friend day

16) HAVE FOOD!

17) Do a “Fish Bowl” discussion with an interesting topic (set up two circles. The inner circle discusses a topic while the outer circle observes)

18) Make a movie during the meeting (or plan it to create outside the meeting)

19) Be visible and get faculty support

20) Find, read (or listen to) and share good books, music & movies with LGBT subjects, issues or performers
Tips and Tidbits: Developing Support/Allies

1) Identify and enlist straight allies for support including: Teachers; Open and Affirming Clergy; Parents/PTAs; Administrators; Community Leaders; Other Diversity Groups; Student Government, etc.

2) Educate others through role modeling, workshops, exercises like a “cross-over” exercise that lets people experience what it’s like to feel both the same and different

3) Establish a Student Bill of Rights using existing Federal and CT statutes that protect your right to establish a group in school

4) Hold a Rally or do a training at an assembly; write and act out short skits about discrimination or homophobia and present them at an assembly or at a faculty meeting and leave time for discussion

5) Network with other like-minded groups and hold regular state-wide GSA meetings

6) Hold on-going group leader meetings for support and to exchange ideas

7) Do a school wide survey and report on the results

8) Create a Social Justice, Non-Discrimination or Equal Rights Petition and get signatures

9) Write letters to the school, community, and local newspapers

10) Join a support group and/or talk with someone you trust

11) Mobilize parents (yours, your friends’ and PFLAG)

12) Use e-mail, set up a web page or an on-line newsletter to communicate with others for ideas, support, networking

13) Change school policy to match the current statutes and to include sexual minority youth, staff and faculty

14) Do workshops for students and faculty (and see if you can make them mandatory)

15) Work on educating younger students (elementary and middle school) since prejudice starts early

16) Put up flyers and posters

17) Get the voice out (and be nice or non-violently assertive)

18) Bring in speakers or hold open forums

19) Create a “Homo-History” lesson

20) Use visual aids like buttons, patches, posters

21) Hold a “bring a straight ally to the GSA” day

22) Have a party with food, music
Tips and Tidbits: Things to Remember as a GSA Leader

1) Ask questions. Let the GROUP decide and be responsible for its own success.

2) Set up (or have the group set up) ground rules in your opening statement that includes things like respect, parking lot issues or stuff that will get ‘tabled’

3) Use icebreakers (at EVERY session!) to make new members feel welcome and to help existing members get to know each other better. Make sure that the icebreaker gives everyone a chance to talk.

4) Take risks

5) Give people space to talk at every meeting (and don’t talk too much yourself)

6) Have a format and an agenda

7) Try to draw out the shy (and make sure that everybody gets a chance to talk and do exercises that get everyone in the room to participate)

8) Ask the group to figure out a signal as a group to let members know when they are drifting off topic or monopolizing the conversation

9) Read up on and look at group roles (who is a ‘task leader’; who is the ‘maintenance leader’; who is the group ‘scapegoat’, etc.)

10) Use humor

11) Break up cliques (do group stuff that puts people in new groups) and always bring in ‘new blood’

12) Incorporate social plans (make sure people have time to socialize)

13) Hold on-going training for group leaders

14) Have the group figure out how to deal with personality conflicts before they happen and then use those suggestions (remind the group) when an issue arises

15) Use ‘good and welfares” at the end of each session: Go around and ask each person to “check out” of the session saying something (even if they say, “pass”). You could ask a question like “Say one thing you liked and didn’t like about the meeting”, “Say one thing you learned or are going to use when you leave,” etc.

One Model of Coming Out *

- Coming out is an interactive, life-long process that is highly influenced by the norms and values of individual families, cultures and societies. It can be defined as an emergent, continuous, developmental process by which Lesbian, Gay and Bisexual people come to know and establish a positive identity in a society which questions both their very existence and their value.

- Some limitations to most of the various “stages” models are that they imply a linear progression from one stage to the next; they ignore the wide variations among individual experiences; they may or may be relevant to bisexual or transgender experience; and they are generally based on research with white, adult, middle class and male populations whose experiences may not generalize or reflect those of others.

- Lesbians appear to perceive affectional orientation and relationship dynamics as central to their self-definition as a sexual minority, while gay men appear to view sexual behavior and sexual fantasy as central to their identity.

- Coming out varies widely from individual to individual. An individual’s gender, ethnicity, race, religion, and resources may have a profound impact on how he or she experiences his or her own identity, orientation, and self-definitions.

- Most identity development models assume single social identities (e.g. race, gender, orientation) which overlooks two important dynamics for LGB People Of Color: The visibility or invisibility of sexual identity and the salience of identity. Most models inappropriately co-mingle personal and group identification, implying that individuals can’t be fully integrated in their LGB identity unless they are completely open about their orientation with others. This perspective may underestimate the impact of coming out for LGB people of color who may be battling multiple oppressions – without multiple support systems.

- Few coherent models of bisexual or transgender identity development exist.

1) Identity Confusion (feeling “different” though the difference may or may not be experienced as sexual in nature; some experience this stage as feeling ‘not heterosexual, rather than gay, lesbian or bisexual; same-sex attraction, dreams, etc.). For many, this occurs at or around puberty.

2) Identity Comparison (stronger sense of difference, social isolation, alienation, shame). Individuals often define their referent group in terms of the dominant culture (e.g. heterosexual, white, male) and internalize negative self-images as a result. Grossman (1997) describes this as internalizing a ‘spoiled’ identity which can lead to extreme stress as the young person is either ‘discredited’ by being known and identified as LGB or is ‘discredible’ in that he/she/hir can be discovered at any time.

3) Identity Tolerance (Actively seeking out bi/homosexual peers, living a “double life”, denial or compartmentalization of sexuality).

4) Identity Acceptance (Increased contact with LGBT peers with severe loneliness/alienation if peers not available; Looking to the LGBT community as a means of providing an alternative, non-stigmatizing definitions of status, as well as social and sexual opportunities)

5) Pride (Us/them attitude about heterosexuality, belief in superiority of being LGBT; aggressively “out” stance, sexually active to bolster identity, anger at prejudice and discrimination. This stage may be experienced quite differently by people of color. The internal and external pressure to come out publicly can create conflicting needs within different social identities. In addition, some may resist labeling by sexual orientation in part because the “gay movement” has been associated with the white middle class. Coming out “aggressively” can be seen as “joining with a white oppressor and denying one’s family ties.”

6) Synthesis (Rejoining supportive heterosexuals, increased empathy, renewed emphasis on work, family roles)

Questions to Consider Before Coming Out

1) Are you sure about your sexual orientation or gender identity? If you feel confused or uncertain (which is normal, especially in the beginning of your exploration about who you are), reach out to people that you know will be supportive and affirming – people who won’t push you to label yourself, people who will give you room to think, question, wonder and explore – people who will give you time to figure it out… Then, when you are ready, begin planning to come out to families and friends whose reaction feels less certain to you. Don’t raise the issues unless you are sure you are able to respond with confidence to the question “Are You Sure?!” Confusion on your part will increase your family or friends confusion and decrease their confidence in your judgment.

2) Are you comfortable with your sexuality and/or gender identity? If you are wrestling with guilt and periods of depression, you’ll be better off waiting to tell your family or friends. Coming out to them may require tremendous energy on your part; it will require a reserve of positive self image – and supportive allies and friends.

3) Do you have support? In the event your parent’s, family member or friend’s reaction devastates you, there should be someone or a group that you can confidentially turn to for emotional support and strength. Maintaining your sense of self-worth is critical. Here are some places that are open in case you need support or help at any time: In Connecticut, call InfoLine at 211 – they have 24/7 emergency, hotline and crisis support and are open and affirming to LGBT issues. For crisis intervention, you can also call the Trevor Project Hotline at 1-800-850-8078 (24 hour LGBT youth suicide prevention hotline) Most of all, be safe, and remember that the moment — whatever it is — passes. You just gotta hang on…

4) Are you knowledgeable about sexual orientation and gender identity? Your family or friends may respond based on a lifetime of information from a homophobic, bi-phobic, gender-phobic, queer-phobic society. Part of your job in coming out to yourself was to educate yourself – now part of your job may be to educate them… Are you prepared to do that? If not, reach out to organizations like Parents, Families and Friends of Lesbians and Gays (PFLAG). They have brochures made just for parents and family members that could really help!

More Tips, tidbits and considerations before you come out

5) Don’t assume you will know how somebody will respond – you may be pleasantly surprised by their affirming response.

6) Timing counts! Realize that your family’s response during holidays may be different than they would be under other less hectic, stressful conditions. Are the holidays the best time or not? Think about your own family or friends and decide.

7) Remember that coming out is a continuous process – you may have to come out many times and in a variety of ways

8) Recognize that family or friends need time to acknowledge and accept that they have an LGBT child. It took you time to come to terms with who you are, now it is your family’s turn.

9) Let your family’s judgment be theirs to work on, not yours to take on, as long as they are kind to you

10) Have alternate plans if the situation becomes difficult at home. A school social worker or other helping professional may be able to help you develop a safety net. Also remember that if the situation turns violent, get out and get help from friends, police or DCF. The DCF Number to report abuse is: 800-842-2288.

If you are coming home for a visit or a holiday and plan to come out then:

11) See # 6 and # 10 above

12) If you are bringing a partner home with you, don’t wait until the holiday evening to raise the issue of sleeping arrangements – make plans in advance. Also consider: “Would your parents let you share a room with an opposite sex partner?” If not, don’t expect the rules to be different just because your partner is …

13) Also, discuss in advance with your partner how you will talk about your relationship, how you will or won’t show affection with each other, etc

14) Focus on common interests, remind and reassure family members that you are the same person you always were — they just know more about you.

15) Be wary about the possible desire to shock your family.

16) Remember to affirm, love and respect yourself and who you are. Remember that who you are is a gift to the world. Remember that the world would be a lesser place without the contribution that you bring to it! Remember, most fundamentally, that you are loved, loving, and lovable.
SALIENDO DEL CLOSET
(traducción de True Colors’s “Coming Out Advice” por David Sarshalom e Ivanka Garáfulic)

A pesar que la edad promedio en que la juventud gay sale del closet, ante ellos mismos y ante los demás sigue disminuyendo, un porcentaje significativo de jóvenes sale del closet durante su primer o segundo año de universidad. Muchos están pensando salir de él ante sus familias durante las vacaciones de invierno. Inclusive jóvenes que ya salieron del closet en la secundaria descubren que ahora han salido del mismo de una manera “diferente” – tal vez de una manera más abierta o con una pareja nueva. En cualquier caso, esto puede ser realmente estresante. Así que, de ahora en adelante, nuestra nueva tradición para el invierno será enviar nuestros “tips para salir del closet” como algo sobre lo cual deberían meditar.

Preguntas que debes Considerar Antes de Salir del Closet

1. ¿Te sientes seguro de tu orientación sexual o identidad de género? Si te sientes confundido o inseguro (lo cual es completamente normal, sobre todo al comienzo de la exploración de tu identidad), busca primero personas que sabes que te apoyarán y te reforzarán la confianza en ti mismo y habla con ellas – gente que no te presionará para que te etiquetes, gente que te dará el espacio para pensar, cuestionar, preguntar y explorar – gente que te dará el tiempo para entenderlo. Después, cuando estés listo, empieza a planear salir del closet ante tus familiares y amigos cuyas reacciones te sean menos predecibles. Nunca saques a relucir el tema a menos que estés seguro que vas a poder responder con toda confianza a la pregunta “¿estás seguro?” La confusión de parte tuya únicamente aumentará la confusión de tus familiares y amigos y disminuirá su confianza en tu juicio.

2. ¿Te sientes cómodo con tu sexualidad y/o identidad de género? Si estás lidiando con culpa y períodos de depresión, es mejor que retardes la decisión de salir del closet ante tu familia o amigos. Salir del closet requiere de mucha energía por parte tuya; va a requerir de una reserva de sentimientos positivos hacia uno mismo – y de aliados y amigos comprensivos.

3. ¿Cuentas con apoyo? En dado caso que la reacción de tus padres, familiares o amigos te deje desconcertado, deberías tener una persona o un grupo de confianza donde puedas acudir en busca de apoyo emocional y de seguridad. Es sumamente importante mantener tu autoestima. A continuación te damos los teléfonos de algunos sitios a los que puedes acudir en caso que llegues a necesitar ayuda: en Connecticut llama a InfoLine al 211 – ellos atienden emergencias 24/7 y la línea de ayuda y de apoyo en caso de crisis recibe llamadas sobre temas LGBT. Otro lugar que también puedes llamar en caso de crisis es al Trevor Project Hotline al 1-800-850-8078 (línea de ayuda telefónica para la prevención del suicidio de jóvenes LGBT). Sin embargo, lo más importante que debes recordar, es que el momento – cualquiera que sea la reacción – pasa. Solamente tienes que conseguir sobrellevar ese momento.

4. ¿Posees conocimientos sobre orientación sexual e identidad de género? Tus familiares o amigos pudieran reaccionar en base a una larga información obtenida de una sociedad homofóbica, bi-fóbica y género-fóbica. Parte de tu trabajo al salir del closet ante ti debería ser educarte – ahora parte de tu trabajo será educarlos. ¿Estás preparado para hacer eso? Si la respuesta es no, ponte en contacto con organizaciones como Parents, Families and Friends of Lesbians and Gays (PFLAG). ¡Ellos cuentan con folletos especialmente diseñados para padres y familiares que realmente pueden ser de gran ayuda!

Más tips, secretitos y consideraciones para antes de salir del closet:

5. Nunca asumas que sabes o puedes predecir la reacción de una persona – puede que te lleves una sorpresa agradable por su reacción de apoyo.

6. ¡El momento sí cuenta! Considera que la respuesta de tus familiares si se los dices durante las fiestas de fin de año, podría ser diferente que sí se los dices en otra época no tan llena de diferentes quehaceres y menos llenos de stress ¿Pudiera ser diferente si tocaras el tema en otras circunstancias menos importantes? ¿Esta es la época mas apropiada para hacerlo? Piensa sobre ello tomando en cuenta a tu familia y amigos y toma una decisión.

7. Recuerda que salir del closet es un proceso constante – es probable que tengas que salir del closet muchas veces y de diferentes maneras.

8. Reconoce que tus familiares y amigos necesitan tiempo para admitir y aceptar que tienen un hijo LGBT. Tú necesitaste tiempo para aceptarte como eres. Ahora le toca el turno a tu familia.
9. Deja que la opinión de tus familiares sea algo que ellos resuelvan, no es algo que tu tienes que asumir, mientras que sean amables contigo.

10. Ten planes alternativos en caso que las cosas se pongan difíciles en tu casa. Un trabajador social del colegio o algún otro profesional pudieran ayudarte a establecer un muro de seguridad. También recuerda que si la situación se pone violenta, debes salir inmediatamente de la casa y conseguir ayuda de amigos, la policía o la DCF. El número de la DCF para reportar abusos es 1-800-842-2288.

Si estás yendo a casa de visita o de vacaciones y planeas salir del closet durante tu estadía:

11. Lee nuevamente #6 y #10 arriba.

12. Si estás llevando tu pareja a tu casa, no esperes hasta la noche de fiesta para hacer los arreglos de alojamiento – planea por adelantado. También considera esto: “¿Tus padres te permitirían compartir un cuarto con una persona del sexo opuesto?” Si la respuesta es no, no esperes que las reglas sean diferentes simplemente porque tu compañero sea un…

13. De igual manera discute con tu compañero la manera en que van a hablar de su relación, si se van a hacer demostraciones de afecto en público, etc.

14. Enfócate en intereses comunes, recuérdale y confírmale a tu familia que eres la misma persona de siempre – solamente que ahora saben algo más de ti.

15. Se prudente acerca del deseo de querer escandalizar a tu familia. Ten mucho cuidado – No lo hagas.

16. Recuerda ser firme en cuanto a quererte y respetarte como persona y por quien eres. Recuerda que eres un regalo para el mundo. ¡Recuerda que el mundo sería un lugar menos especial sin la contribución que tú le aportas! Lo más fundamental, recuerda que eres muy querido, que eres cariñoso y que eres digno de ser amado.
Coming Out to Children

Although this section was originally written for LGBT parents, much of the information is quite applicable to Social Workers and LGBT foster parents as they consider what and when to talk with foster children about the foster parent’s sexual orientation.

Suggestions for Parents: (from Barbara F. Meltz’s weekly column in the Boston Globe: Child Caring.)

Clue in all the adults in your child’s life from baby sitters to parents of peers, on the story of your family
Explaining orientation need not include a discussion of sex until the child is developmentally ready. When younger children ask how babies are made, tell them honestly, but also include the story of how they were made “Mama and I could not make a baby by ourselves so we adopted you!” Or whatever is true for your family.
All children benefit from relationships and role models of each gender. Enlist friends, relatives, teachers and coaches.
Some studies reveal that children of same sex parents typically wish their parents were less affectionate with each other in public (yeah, like the children of straight kids don’t?) and had fewer lesbian/gay posters or books around the house.
Be sure to tell you children that they don’t need to protect you: “Don’t be afraid to tell me if something happens or you have bad thoughts. It won’t make me feel bad. I can’ handle it!”
Especially if you are not out in all areas of your life, talk to children about the language of choice: “People don’t tell everyone everything that happens in a family. You pick and choose whom you feel safe talking to.”

Infants and toddlers: What their family looks like to the rest of the world matters not at all to them as long as they are well loved Preschoolers: children begin to notice all kinds of differences but don’t know that cultural messages are attached to these differences. Keep your responses simple and matter of fact. “Yes you are right – your friend has a mom and a dad and you have two dads…” Expand on it if you have other examples to point to.
Early Elementary Age: Child begins to see recognition of cultural values from ‘why am I the only one who…” to “I don’t like being the only one who….” There is a dawning sense that being different has consequences. This is your cue to talk about how the world works and how “sometimes the people who are in the majority make rules that say that others ways of being aren’t as good – which is why families like ours are working to change those rules…” Follow through by being a visible advocate in your child’s school.

Late Elementary and middle school age: This is the trickiest time for parents because it is the time that children most long to be most like their peers. Even the most loving kids can say the most hurtful things sometimes about their families: “I hate this family! Why can’t we be like everyone else?” Experts urge parents not to take it personally – it’s about the need to fit in, not about your family per se. Some children are sad or withdrawn during these years, but parents should try to keep the lines of communication open. Let your kids know that you are available to talk and initiate conversations if they don’t: “Has there been teasing lately?”
Mid to late adolescence: A developmental task of these years is coming to grips with your sexual identity. Once this is resolved, family differences are less of an issue. Studies show that the children of LGBT parents are no more likely to be LGBT than the population at large, though they often feel more free to experiment as they grow into their own sexual identity.
Studies suggest that when, compared to the population as a whole, lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender (LGBT) individuals experience higher levels of social isolation, substance abuse, depression, and suicidality across the life cycle, particularly at adolescence, and again, in their senior years. This increased level of distress can often be directly attributed to the emotional effects of stigma; the perpetual risk of peer, family and societal discovery and/or rejection; harassment, increased risk and incidence of violence and discrimination. In spite of the increased risks this population faces, few services exist to meet their needs. Some recommendations across the life cycle include:

1) Increase Respect for and Tolerance of Difference Within the School Setting. Mandate cultural competency standards for Faculty and Staff designed to ensure a safe and equitable education for all students. In addition, incorporate LGBT issues into existing student curriculum. Some examples:
   a) K-3rd: Discussions regarding the many ways in which people create families (such as single parent, grandparent, foster parent, LGBT parent families) designed to teach children to be respectful of each other/the families they grow up in
   b) 4th – 6th: Exercises and activities which focus on respect for each other and tolerance for difference
   c) 7th – 8th: Increased focus on tolerance for difference, anti-bullying strategies that include peer mediation and conflict resolution; impact of hate language in the classroom and in the school yard
   d) 9th – 12th: Exercises and activities which challenge prevailing LGBT myths and stereotypes, expand student awareness of the impact of discrimination and look at the intersection of racism, sexism and homophobia

2) Expand Professional Standards/Training in all of the helping professions to include competency in sexual minority issues. Some examples:
   a) Regarding LGBT Youth: An understanding of the impact of social isolation; developmental impact of coming out without accurate information, role models and resources; Potential family and/or peer violence or harassment; Safety issues; Family system issues when youth are “out” to some but not all members of a family (e.g. confusion, secret-keeping, etc.)
   b) Regarding LGBT adults: An understanding of the impact of chosen family systems which may be both non-traditional and complex; Estranged or conflictual relationships with families of origin; Relationship issues that are unique to same sex partners (for example: partners who are at different stages in the ‘coming out’ process or situations where primary relationships are not acknowledged within the family, work or other social settings). In addition, many LGBT individuals experience significant distress as they live with the impact of chronic and multiple losses as a result of the AIDS pandemic.
   c) Regarding LGBT Parents and their children: An understanding of the impact of: Social isolation; The relative degree to which parents are “out” or open regarding their sexual orientation; The way in which the family was created (i.e. after a divorce, blended families, children born into an established LGBT parent unit; etc.); The developmental stage of the child; Discriminatory school, health care or other policies that denigrate or marginalize the family and the non-biological parent.
   d) Regarding LGBT elderly: An understanding of the impact of: Loss of a life partner within an environment that may not have recognized them as a couple; Social, health care and inheritance policies that do not recognize partners as “next of kin”; Convalescent or other long-term care facilities which are homophobic or subject them to hostile environments.

3) Expand programs and training within existing facilities to meet the needs of LGBT individuals with psychiatric or developmental disabilities.
   a) Existing DCF, DMHaS and DMR programs (and their affiliates) must recognize that some of their clients are LGBT and must ensure that their environments, their programs, and their staff are LGBT affirming. This requires values clarification and bias reduction training for all staff with additional skill-building training for clinical staff.
   b) New programs which specifically target both in and out patient LGBT youth and adults need to be developed. There are currently NO LGBT specific, in-patient programs in CT. There is one outpatient group for LGBT adults with mental illness (at CT Mental Health Center, Yale); and one community based group (at the New Haven Gay and Lesbian Community Center) for LGBT adults with developmental disabilities. LGBT-specific support groups (like 12-step programs), therapy groups and socialization groups that allow LGBT individuals come together to provide mutual support and understanding have been shown to significantly improve the overall outcomes with in-patient, out-patient and community-based groups.
Substance Abuse Treatment Issues

For CT LGBT 12-Step meetings, call InfoLine at 211, call the AA Hotline at (800) 252-6465 or see www.ct-aa.org.

Issues:
A number of studies have suggested that LGBT youth have significantly higher rates of substance use, including tobacco, alcohol and illicit drugs than their heterosexual peers. In general, gay men appear to exhibit little elevated risk for alcohol abuse or heavy drinking relative to heterosexual men. The rates of drinking for gay men tend to remain constant over the life cycle, however, while the rates for heterosexual men tend to decrease as they age. Recent studies examining trends in drinking have reported decreases in drinking and alcohol related problems with gay men.
Lesbians appear to be at higher risk for heavier drinking and for drinking related problems than heterosexual women in all age categories. The highest rates were reported by lesbians aged 55 or older, who were least open about their sexual orientation and least connected to the lesbian community.
Lesbians are more likely to currently use marijuana than any other illicit drug. Gay men are more likely to use club drugs, inhalants, stimulants and sedatives.

Risk Factors:
The role of the “gay bar” as a primary social vehicle; Fewer peer, family and societal supports; Internalized homophobia
Socioeconomic and psychosocial conditions associated with minority status; for youth, higher risk of factors which are associated with drug use: truancy; school drop out; smoking, depression, etc.
Stresses related to identity formation and coming out
Cigarette smoking (often considered a gateway drug) is significantly higher among sexual minority youth and lesbian women than in heterosexuals.

Assessment and Treatment Issues:
Clients usually present with global reports of anxiety or depression or with specific problems in one or more life areas that are the result of drug or alcohol abuse. Few specific instruments exist to assess the impact of orientation, or even to include orientation in the process. Therefore all assessments must include a thorough (current and past) psychosexual history.
Clinicians must be able to identify and assess which stage of the coming out process their clients are in. This is significant because it directly impacts the therapeutic process and can help identity appropriate interventions.
Culturally competent treatment might include assisting the client in increased self-awareness and acceptance as a sexual minority as well as an exploration of coping strategies to assist with discrimination and rejection from society, peers, family of origin and others, along with the stresses of recovery. For example, if alcohol or drugs were used to conceal inner conflict related to orientation, then it will be essential to address those issues in order to alleviate guilt, shame, self-hatred, etc.
Does the treatment environment include and affirm the client’s (often) non-traditional family networks and support systems? Identification and recognition of a ‘chosen’ family support system are highly beneficial for the continuance of recovery. What resources exist within the LGBT community to support sobriety?
Does the treatment environment affirm LGBT clients? Are intake, assessment and other forms, inclusive of LGBT lives and identities? To what extent is the client able to be “out” in in-patient, day treatment and other groups?
